I'm trying to create a hotel reservation app where I read a character from a file and then convert it to an int to be saved in the database. Currently I have my code as follows (I'm a beginner): void createRoom() { int i = 0; i = infile.read(); //i reads the char char c = '1'; int j = charToInt('1'); cout Washington (CNN) -- A key official in an American delegation, which met with Belarusian authorities earlier this month, has died from injuries sustained in a car crash in Belgium on Wednesday, a State Department official said Friday. John Beyrle, a U.S. deputy assistant secretary of state, was driving a rental car in the Belgian town of Herstal when it collided with a Belgian police motorcycle. Belgium's police spokesman, Guy Van Opstal, said Beyrle's car collided with a motorcycle mounted with a flashing light, which was parked at a traffic light in the center of the town. Cpl. Jerome Janssens, 37, died as a result of his injuries, according to Van Opstal. At least 79a2804d6b
