The installation program for Windows is provided as a ZIP archive that can be unzipped and run. Following the instructions in the README.txt file inside the ZIP archive, extract the files to a folder on your hard disk. The ZIP archive contains a setup program that automatically runs in the background. Once the files are installed on your PC, you will need to insert an original Windows CD-ROM, or CD-RW into your system to run the setup program. Otherwise, the installation program will not run. When the setup program runs, it will check your system for other Windows-related software. If the Windows logo does not appear on the Windows desktop screen, click the next button until you see a screen that says "the Windows desktop" and then press the Start button. At this point, you can install the program from the CD-ROM to your hard disk. You can rerun the installation program any time you want to change the way Windows looks and works. We do not support the MS Windows 98 or ME version of the software. It is your responsibility to use this software in accordance with the

By Sangeetha Bommiprolu • @sangeethaBlog I am often asked questions about what the future holds for us as society, and if we will be saved from the rising sea levels and the threats of climate change. If you are also curious about the future of the world, here are some facts you should know.

1. Climate change is a real threat According to the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the report published in 2018 states that we are entering a “new era of climate instability”. The report was published by the United Nations, and it states that we are changing the environment faster than any time in the past. Humans have never done anything as fast as this before, and it is a question of only how fast we can do it now. According to the report, climate change is a bigger threat to life on the planet than war, nuclear weapons, or even terrorism. 2. Carbon dioxide emissions are at the highest level in over a million years Carbon dioxide is the one of the most prominent greenhouse gases, and its emissions have reached the highest level in over a million years. Carbon dioxide is a pollutant that is produced by many industries that burn fossil fuels, such as coal, oil, and gas. The amount of carbon dioxide that is released into the atmosphere is increasing by a value of 15 billion tonnes a year. The air's carbon dioxide level is at the highest level that the atmosphere has seen in the past 650,000 years.
